ClickID® trust seals by DigiCert® are the latest offering to help your site visitors have more confidence and trust in your website.

Trust Seals from ClickID offer an elegant solution for you to build a strong, real-world connection with your visitors through photo verification. When you order a premium ClickID trust seal, we'll send representatives to take photos of your organization that will serve as a reliable measure of authenticity for your customers.

Photo verification helps reassure your visitors that your site is backed by a legitimate, physical organization. Removing customer uncertainty can lead to increased conversion rates and greater returns for your business.

DigiCert Recognized for Best Practices

Frost & Sullivan Customer Value Enhancement Award

Global market research and analyst firm Frost & Sullivan has awarded DigiCert its 2011 Best Practices Customer Enhancement Award in recognition of the company's ability to provide customers cost-effective, best-in-class certificates with high-level features.

Frost & Sullivan Research Analyst Richard Martinez said, "In an era when companies are closely managing costs and requiring more productivity out of workers, DigiCert's products offer market advantages."

Your success is DigiCert's top priority and we continually strive keep it that way.

Ken Bretschneider, DigiCert CEO, affirms that "this recognition motivates us to avoid complacency and to keep a sharp focus on enriching the online security market with leading encryption and authentication services backed by unmatched customer support."

Thank you to all our dedicated customers! We are committed to continue providing the best product value and customer service we know how.
